

Preparation and Dosing of Viscous Products in Water Treatments

- Preparation of polyelectrolyte solutions and subsequent dosing involves treating with highly viscous products.
- The use of low and very low frequency dosing devices, with high suction capacity, equipped with appropriate valves allows such fluids to be volumetrically treated in a wide range of flows.
- This aspect should also be considered in the dosing of viscous organic coagulants as a replacement for Ferric Chloride.

ITC Products: Dostec-50, EFR Pump

DOSTEC 50
DOSING PUMP

EFR
DOSING PUMP